

CHCORI chronicles

FEBRUARY 21, 2013

- Bowling
- Courtland Briefing
- Drill
- Dance
- Book
- Drive
- Change of Command

CHCORI AS ONE!

BOWLING

On January 20, 2013 to groups and went to night out and will be the CHCORI cadets challenge each other looking forward to enjoyed an exciting at the lanes. 1st Ser- the next bowling afternoon at Liberty geant Murphy suf- game. Lanes for a bowling fered a loss, while his brother had a com- ing the required plete victory. Overall shoes we split off in- everyone had a joyful

COURTLAND BRIEFING

On Thursday, February 7, 2013 a briefing for all rising freshmen was held at Courtland. All staff members were present and introduced themselves. Cadets Schlupp and Johnson presented the ACUs, Cadets Deitt and Cannon presented the class A Uniform, Cadets Haag and Hancock presented the Class B uniforms, while dancing to make the audience laugh.

We also had some speakers, like Berryman from Bravo who said that “JROTC has changed my life all around and if I wasn’t in JROTC I wouldn’t have the courage to talk in front of so many people today.” Cadet Clarke also spoke of how JROTC has been a great experience for him so far. Towards the end of the day refreshments were served and the 8th graders asked their questions, all showing a lot of interest in the program.

Overall the briefing was a suc-

CHANGE OF COMMAND— secretary of defense

Recently we had a change in the Secretary of Defense. The honorable Chuck Hagel has assumed the position of leadership. The United States expects great things to come from him.

DRILL DANCE

Dance, music, or food anybody? The drill team hosted its first fundraising dace on February 15th.

Angela Amorosi did a rockin' DJ'ing job and some awesome popcorn and snow-cones were served. All the cadets were entertained by the amazing dancing of two surprise guests, Scotty

Hancock and Austin Perdue, who arrived in gillie suits that really got the dancing started. Everyone broke loose and had an

BOOK DRIVE

Alpha company competed their service learning project. All the companies helped support them. Alpha went to Books-A-Million where people bought over 100 books to donate, while bringing in over 1000 books total to give to all elementary schools in Spotsylvania county. Overall this was a successful project and we learned the importance of giving to people in need. Now children everywhere can improve their knowledge by reading books

Spotlight Cadet

Kevin Leinberger is a cadet Staff Sergeant in Alpha company. He has been on the Raider A Team and competed in four competitions. He has won NCO of the Quarter. He is also on the leadership team.

Other than JROTC, Kevin participates in sports such as cross country, track and anything that involves running. He also bike rides with his dad. They bike an average of 60 miles. He also spends his time writing for the school newspaper. He has “absolutely no free time—unless you count sleep time.”

After high-school Kevin wants to serve in the US Army. He joined JROTC for a head start. When asked if he plans on going to college he says, “Definitely, I am looking at colleges such as West Point and VMI.” Kevin also says that JROTC offers a whole lot of leadership opportunities which will help him become a better future soldier.

Kevin wants to join staff and help in whatever ways can to best serve the CHCORI battalion.